We dedicate this book to the boys of our school, who have left Kanawha
Valley for the service of our country.

Lo, the Valley of Kanawha
Lured the settlers ever on.
Hand-hewn logs soon formed the cabins;
Tepees from the banks were gone.
There were many early settlers—
History gives us but a few;
Yet so much could still be written
Of their strength and courage true.
Products from this magic valley,
Products known both far and near—
Wealth from out the mountains poured
And blessed the work of the pioneer.
Steamboats on the river wide,
Tunnels through the mountains high,
Good roads for the speeding cars,
Silver airplanes in the sky
Now bring glory to the mountains
And the valleys wide and deep.
We shall cherish ever, always
This our heritage to keep.
We are thankful for the splendor
Of the beauties that we see,
And to us the hills are saying,
"Mountaineers are always free."

—Peggy Geyer.

Kanawha Valley — Then and Now

If Daniel Boone, Simon Kenton, or George Clendenin could return today, he would be surprised by what would confront him.

On a spot where once stood a rude log fort, he would find a budding metropolis. Instead of a few scattered farms and a salt well, founded at Malden in seventeen eighty-five, he would see a multi-million dollar chemical business, plus innumerable smaller industries. Instead of a few roving Indians and the Morris brothers, the first settlers in the valley, he would discover a population of over two hundred thousand. Instead of a few British or American army officers, the only administrative power of a district which at that time was just a frontier of Virginia, he would perceive, housed in a magnificent capitol building, the machinery for one of the most progressive and democratic states of America today. Instead of a rude log building, thirty by forty feet he would view a spacious stone courthouse. Instead of canoes and flatboats, he would glimpse modern diesel tugboats pushing coal barges up and down the river. Instead of the Kanawha and James River Turnpike, the only road then in the Kanawha Valley, he would espy a network of modern highways. He would also find bus lines and four railroads which carry passengers to and from our valley in ease.

Since the seventeen hundreds our valley has progressed in every way. It has become the chemical center of the world. Even while this is being written, a new chemical plant is being constructed at Institute. During the last war, a plant was constructed at Institute for the making of synthetic rubber. Located in Kanawha City are two large glass plants, one making plate glass and the other making bottles. Near Sissonville are located oil wells, and along the Kanawha River gas springs are found. West Virginia is noted for its coal; and while the Kanawha Valley is not the center of the coal industry, nevertheless there are several mines located here. These are but a few of the valley's many industries, too numerous to list.

Developing from its humble beginnings, the business of the valley has become one of the most healthy in the nation and its prospects for the future look better. This fact is witnessed by the rapidly increasing number of buildings which have recently been constructed.

Not only in business, but also in civic accomplishments, has our valley prospered. The magnificent and breath-taking Kanawha County Airport, where once Simon Kenton camped, was built only after a mountain was moved. This airport has been declared one of the nation's and certainly West Virginia's finest. From the new, million-dollar terminal, which is one of the most beautiful structures in the state, there are more than forty flights a day. In fact, the airport is third in passenger use in the nation, with a ratio of 96 passengers boarding per one hundred people. This figure is exceeded only by Atlanta and Miami.

If one of our early pioneers could come back today and stand on a mountain overlooking the teeming Kanawha Valley and could see the millions of lights, the fine roads, and the beautiful buildings, he would feel that all the hardships and dangers he had endured had not been in vain.

Administration

ONE OF THE FIRST SCHOOLS
IN KANAWHA COUNTY.....

B. F. Hill Presides over School Activities

THE HEAD OF OUR ADMINISTRATIVE DEPARTMENT IS MR. B. FRED HILL. OUR PRINCIPAL WORKS DILIGENTLY NOT ONLY TO CREATE HIGH SCHOLASTIC STANDARDS AT STONEWALL BUT ALSO TO DEVELOP WELL ROUNDED INDIVIDUALS THROUGH THE PROMOTION OF EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES.

Our vivacious dean of girls, Miss Virginia Atkinson, is intensely interested in educational promotion. Though she has a variety of interests, her enthusiasm for our many projects and her conscientious work encourage students and faculty participants.

One of the most popular executives at Stonewall Jackson is Mr. George Steadman, dean of boys. For seven years he has capably held this position, coping with the problems of boys. Everyone's friend, he is always willing to help others.

A friendly "Can I help you?" when you enter the administrative offices is spoken by Mrs. Harry Auer. An alumna of the class of "42", very much interested in all Stonewall activities, Mrs. Auer is responsible for all our curricular records.

QUEED McILHATTAN

For nutritious lunches, Stonewall's cafeteria is tops. Its popularity is evident at noon when long lines of students form at the counters.

The Latin Department offers four years of Latin to Stonewall students. The courses consist of grammar, vocabulary, and a study of English derivatives.

In addition to literary, cultural, and scientific value the study of French affords most students much pleasure and personal satisfaction. The course enables one to meet the language entrance requirement of many colleges.

The Spanish classes and La Tertulia, the affiliated Spanish Club of Stonewall, offer opportunities for profitable learning and pleasurable use of the Spanish language.

Promote Accurate, Intensive Thinking

Here we see students making a start in first year algebra. Students who can think clearly and work accurately find mathematics interesting.

First year algebra is followed by plane geometry and second year algebra. Pre-engineering students and others interested in math take solid geometry and trigonometry in their senior year. The Math Department cooperates with the Business Education Department in teaching business math.

Because of the rapid advance in science and engineering, math is more important today than ever before.

Nearly half of Stonewall's student body is studying some phase of science whether it be biology, chemistry, or physics. In our science-minded chemical valley, students realize that they need all the science possible for their futures, whether they are to be in industry, in nursing, in medicine, in military service, in homemaking, in dentistry, or in keeping up with the world of tomorrow.

The Business Education Department, which is one of the most popular of the departments at Stonewall Jackson, prepares the students for immediate employment after school and, in so far as facilities permit, provides training for those in the academic courses. The common business principles and practices that everyone should know are incorporated in the more technical as well as social business subjects.

Art and Music

Classes Induce Cultural Appreciation

Stonewall Jackson's Music Department offers a varied program, both vocal and instrumental. The band, which includes a fine majorette corps, has won much recognition, and has played for football games, parades, concerts, and other community activities. The orchestra, also under the direction of Mr. Loar, provides an opportunity for concert work, and often assists in concerts and operettas. The choral groups, under the direction of Miss Eleanore Thomasson, are proud of their organization, too. They participate in community activities and assemblies; they also present operettas and special programs.

Under the supervision of Mr. E. Byron Meyer, art students learn many fascinating facts about the art world. Given in his first period class, beginning art, are the fundamentals of the subject, such as perspective, lettering, and design. The second period class majors solely in design, while third period students are working hard at lettering. Two hours are devoted to advanced art in the afternoon, for students who are preparing to major in art in college or who plan to attend an art school after graduation. Art provides an outlet for a student's creative and constructive ability.

Stonewall's Home Economics Departments offer excellent training for every girl, whether she plans to go on to college or to become a homemaker. Home economics presents many opportunities for employment and is one in which the demand is never filled.

The food department, under the direction of Miss Ethel Rose, maintains a high standard. In addition to the fundamentals of cooking, the girls learn the art of serving and the making of an attractive table setting. This field is not confined to girls. Stonewall is very proud of the chef class. Here the boys also try their hand at cooking.

Miss Maude Munsey heads the clothing department. Under her able direction, the girls learn not only sewing but also poise and good grooming.

"Retailing is the oldest business and the newest profession." The fact that it has become a profession presents a challenge to high school students who are interested in the practical side of business.

Distributive Education is a type of training, specifically vocational in nature, revolving around a group of skills, knowledges, understandings, appreciations, and judgments that are integrated with such subjects as retail selling, principles of retailing, store operation and management, advertising, merchandise information and other allied subjects. The primary objective of this program is to train individuals to participate more efficiently in the distribution of goods and services.

Mixed Chorus and Glee Club

"Ready, let's sing," is a familiar call to the members of the Glee Clubs of Stonewall. These organizations, under the direction of Miss Eleanor Thomasson, participate in many school, city, and state activities. To bring musical enjoyment to the school and public is the purpose of this energetic group. Students must possess abilities for teamwork, as well as talent to make the Glee Clubs a success.

The boys' and girls' choruses, containing twenty-seven and sixty members, respectively, take part in operettas, spring concerts, bacca-laureate service, and all-state and county cho-ral festivals. They also present special assem-blies and furnish music for various clubs and organizations.

This fall the boys' and girls' choruses gave an operetta, "Pirates of Penzance," and a spring concert with many interesting songs, accompanied by the orchestra, under the di-rection of Edgar Loar.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Bush, the Latin Club has become one of the largest and most popular language organizations in Stonewall. Talks and plays are often given at the meetings which are held on the third Wednesday of each month.

The ambition of the French club is to have a better understanding of the French people and their background. The accomplishments of this year have been many and varied. A constitution in French was drawn up, new members were initiated at a weiner roast, and a play in French was presented in assembly.

La Tertulia is sponsored by Mrs. Costillos. The programs include guest speakers. There are about sixty-five members. At Christmas a pinata filled with sweets is hung from the ceiling. When it has been broken by a long stick, everybody tries to get the candy. All members enjoy the club and have made it one of Stonewall's most active groups.

Quill and Scroll is awarded to students who do outstanding work in the field of journalism. This organization is an international honor society for high school journalists. The Quill and Scroll of Stonewall Jackson High School is under the wise leadership of Miss Mary Kennedy and Mr. Stuart P. Armstrong.

To be a member of the National Honor Society is the greatest reward a high school student can hope to obtain. Members of this society are chosen on the basis of character, service, leadership, and scholarship. The members are initiated in impressive candle-light ceremonies which are held each semester.

Membership in the Student Council consists of school and class officers. Besides aiding in the administration of the school, the council also sponsors the paper store, plans and sponsors the assemblies, and takes charge of the lost and found. The organization is foremost in promoting student activities.

The Executive Council is made up of representatives from all organizations and the officers of the school. This group works together to service the school and to guide all activities. This year, the Council chose nominees for the Student of the Month.

Troupers, Thespians Present Plays

The Troupers and Thespians opened the season with the Junior Class Play, "Cheaper by the Dozen," Troupers' performance of "The Bishop's Mantle" and the Senior Class production ended the year. The club offers experiences in all phases of play production.

Although noted for its Thanksgiving and Easter assemblies, the Hi-Y Club has other activities such as selling refreshments at the school dances. Acting as president this year is Alan Hamrick.

In the Varsity Club, each member has won a letter in at least one sport here at Stonewall Jackson. Thus he is an outstanding boy in either track, baseball, basketball, or football. Bob Parsons, a senior, is the president for this year.

in Christian Ideals and Good Fellowship

To develop Christian character is the purpose of the Y-Teens. This group of girls has participated in many activities such as sending Christmas gifts to the children of the Davis Child Shelter and sending chocolates to Europe. They also presented the student body with a religious assembly during World Prayer Week. Stonewall Booster tags and bake sales were sponsored to raise money for sending delegates to Jackson's Mill.

Equally important is the Stitch and Stir. This group has served at many events such as the West Virginia Education Association meeting. Last summer at the State Fair, the Stitch and Stir won first prize for the foods they had canned. Emily Pruett, the club president, attended a three-day conference of the Future Homemakers of America.

Library, Office Assistants, Cheerleaders,

Books, books, and more books! Wouldn't we be in a fix, if we went to look for a book and had to look on every shelf in the library? We would, if it were not for our card files and library assistants. Their duties consist of filing, shelving, and checking out books. They work under the direction of Miss Susanna Rose, our librarian, who finds them very efficient.

Some of the most useful and dependable girls in Stonewall Jackson are the office assistants. They do various jobs to help Mrs. Auer, Miss Atkinson, and Mr. Steadman. Office assistants must have some of the following qualities: honesty, accuracy, and courtesy. They also help Mr. Steadman and Miss Atkinson with scheduling.

Junior Red Cross is sponsored by Mr. Oral Burdette. This organization consists of a representative from each home room. Each year the Junior Red Cross sponsors our Red Cross drive and sends boxes overseas to needy families. They meet once a month.

Most of the people of the Kanawha Valley give recognition to Stonewall Jackson for the intense enthusiasm in backing its school teams. But few realize that the cheerleaders are the inspiring spirit behind all this school interest. These girls should be especially commended for their loyalty and good work.

Cheerleaders: Billie Carol Griffith, Barbara Goodwin, Ann Heizer, Lynn Marshall, and Gerry Bail.

Make Progress in Academic Subjects

To develop competent, aggressive leaders of business is the purpose of the Future Business Leaders of America. Sponsored by Mrs. Meadows, this group of seventy-five members has been very active this year. Besides the many interesting meetings consisting of parties and guest speakers, this organization also sponsored a "Miss Secretary" contest and a community tour.

To educate students who are interested in scientific matters is the main purpose of the Stonewall Chapter of the West Virginia Junior Academy of Science. This active club, under the direction of its officers, Rochelle Cashdan, Herman Hambrick, Carolyn Beddow, and Miss Virginia Karnes, faculty advisor, hold regular meetings at which interesting demonstrations are given. The Esso Bulk Plant was the scene of a tour in which many interesting phases of this industry were explained and demonstrated.

Build with an Eye to the Future

Actively successful describes the G.A.A. whose objective is to encourage and promote better attitudes and ideals of sportsmanship. This group under the direction of Miss Drasnin, participate in both intramural sports and outside sports. Some of the most successful dances of the school year, sponsored by the G.A.A. are the square dances given on such occasions as Thanksgiving and Christmas.

To encourage students to enter the teaching profession is the purpose of the Future Teachers of America club. Under the sponsorship of Miss Susanna Rose, this organization offers many varied programs including discussions of the advantages of teaching and the qualifications of a good teacher. The highlight of the year was a speech by Mr. Thomas R. Horner on "Teaching and Its Good and Bad Points." Officers of the club are president, Jacquita Starcher; vice president, Richard Marion; secretary-treasurer, Ruth Stonestreet.

"Fall in," is the familiar cry echoing through the gymnasium. It is the gym leaders assembling the class for roll call. These leaders conduct physical education classes under the supervision of Miss Drasnin. Their duties include attending to equipment and keeping the gymnasium clean. This efficient corps makes it possible for the physical education classes to be well organized and the year's training program accomplished.

The Jackson Journal

An organization of which Stonewall can certainly be proud is the Jackson Journal. This school paper, published bi-monthly, is one of the most outstanding high school papers in the United States.

Year after year, under the capable direction of Mr. Stuart P. Armstrong, the Jackson Journal has won many honors. Among the honors won are Pacemaker, National Scholastic All-American, Columbia Scholastic Press Association, Quill and Scroll, International Honor, George H. Gallup Honor Award, Southern Interscholastic Press Association Honor Award, All-Columbian Literary Honors, and All-Columbian Advertising Honors.

Besides putting out such wonderful issues of our school papers, the Journal homeroom sponsors many other popular features, as the Jackson Jollities, presented each fall and spring and the piano concert, occurring in April.

The outstanding achievement of the Journal this year was the special Christmas edition which was vastly different from any Journal ever published in Stonewall. It was published in magazine form, the cover design having been selected by a contest. Its 176 pages were filled with a great variety of school news and pictures of past, present, and future events at Stonewall.

Staff

Helping in the production of the annual, the literary staff worked on write-ups and captions under Assistant Editors Jodie Fischer, Eileen Wehrle, and Eleanor Shelton.

The Art Department, under Donna Long, handled their important assignment with great skill. They contributed cartoons and sketches to make the book attractive and to carry out the general theme. The unique end pages were done by Mike Griffith.

Of course an annual cannot be published without pictures, and a great deal of credit goes to our deserving student photographers, John McDavid and Mary Lou Summers, for their excellent work and ready cooperation.

Miss Stonewall Jackson

Lovely Marilyn Akers was chosen by the student body as Miss Stonewall Jackson at the Charleston High game. Marilyn is head major-ette of Stonewall's popular corps and will graduate in June.

Jackson Hills

Doris Hutton: Cheerful smile and fun-loving disposition are characteristics of Doris Hutton, popular member of the senior class and one of Stonewall's majorettes.

Jean Burford: Jean, with dark hair, pretty eyes and a gentle disposition, is one of the best liked and most active girls in Stonewall's senior class.

Ann Heizer: Vivacious Ann Heizer, one of Stonewall's cheerleaders, has won many friends in school because of her cheery smile and willingness to help others.

Nancy Huddle: "With a song in her heart" could well describe charming blonde Nancy Huddle, who will be long remembered for her lovely singing and as a majorette.

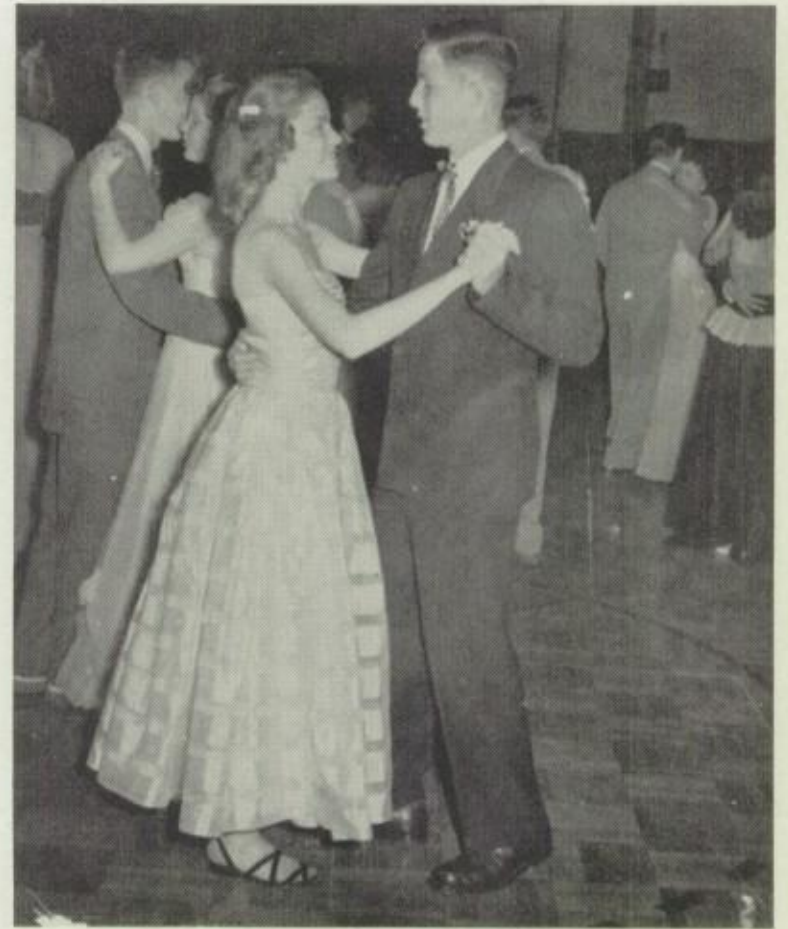

Dora Thompson: Another blonde, Dora could be described as "sweet and lovely." Dora is best known as the pretty and capable singer for the Stonewall dance band.

Jean Wood: Pretty Jean Wood, who has blonde hair and blue eyes, is another of Stonewall's majorettes and is a well-liked, popular member of her class.

Jackson Jollities

The fall edition of the ever-popular Jackson Jollities was presented this year on October 18. Two performances were given, one in the morning for students and an evening program for adults. As usual the Jollities were a smash hit! There was an unusually large array of talent, presented in a very entertaining way.

Each fall and spring the Jackson Journal sponsors the Jackson Jollities. This provides a chance for some students to use their talents and others to enjoy watching them.

The Generals turned in a very outstanding record for the 1950 track season, winning six and dropping one. Our lone defeat came at the hands of Marietta at the Huntington Relays. We wound up our season by winning the state track meet the third successive time. Our squad piled up an impressive fifty-four points while the nearest contender, Huntington Central, had only thirty-five and one-half. Jarrett took high point honors placing first in 180 yard low hurdles, 120 yard high hurdles, broad jump; and he also helped the points in the shuttle hurdle relay, in which we placed second. Also scoring high were Dick Harrah and Dean Dugger, who between them earned thirteen and one-half points. They took the following: 440 yard dash, fourth place; discus, first place; broad jump, third place.

Our mainstays in the pole vault were Reuben Ward and Frank Shaffer. Flash Harper, our leading dash man, also turned in a very successful season. Our mile relay team, the best in the state, consisted of Jerry Fox, Jay Hamilton, Bob "Lips" Coiner, and Dick Harrah. Although they did not win first place in the state meet, our shuttle-hurdle relay team, consisting of Bob Holliday, Jack Sothen, Dick Harrah, and Bill Jarrett, placed second.

Baseball Boys Bring Home the Bacon

With spectacular fielding and hard hitting, S. J.'s baseball team turned in the best record yet. Under the leadership of Clyde "Pud" Hutson, S. J. got off on the right foot with five straight wins. The able pitching of Bob Parsons made Catholic and Nitro the first two of the five. Turley and Boggess teamed up to win over Huntington East. Tesch's timely singles plus the pitching of Parsons and Turley completed the five victories.

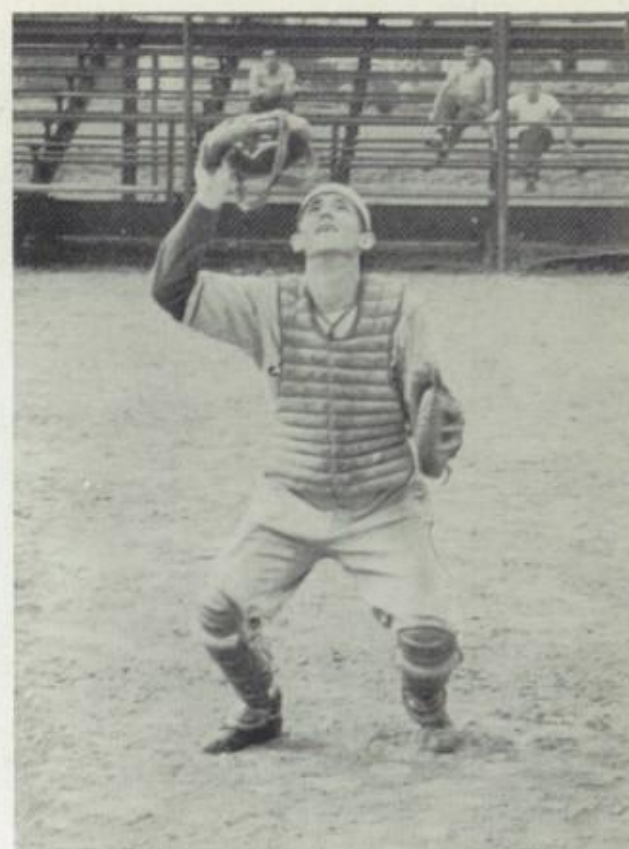

Midway through the season Coach Hutson discovered the pitching ability of Jack Doyle. Doyle went on to turn in an outstanding record of five wins and one loss. As S. J. started the season with a five game winning streak, it ended with the same. Stonewall closed a very successful season by defeating Nitro, Sissonville, East Bank, Charleston, South Charleston, only to lose to Madison 3-2 in the state tournament.

Stonewall Gridironers Turn in Successful

Despite a month suspension handed down to us by the West Virginia Athletic Association, the S. J. Generals turned in a successful season. The suspension seemed unjust to the majority of the people in this section since several other schools suffered as a result. Our season record was five wins and two losses. Also, we did not play Weirton, which was a rescheduled game, due to the weather. The younger members of our squad did surprisingly well as they made up most of our team. Donnie Griffith, Ike Hartman, Parky Reed and several other sophomores played "heads up" ball all season. We were also well stocked with juniors in the persons of Boyce Jarrett, Eddie Johnson, Roger Stover, Lefty Pritt and other potential stars. Senior Bob Parsons, who was all-state, was a defensive star. Also Dean Dugger, Jay Hamilton, and Marion Arose saw a great deal of action as seniors. Extra points were booted by Jay Hamilton, Dean Dugger, and occasionally Donnie Griffith ran one. As Coach Parsons said in assembly, "These boys are perhaps the best ball club to ever represent Stonewall on the gridiron. What they lacked in size and experience they made up in practice and determination."

Ike Hartman closes in on an enemy ball carrier.

HUNTINGTON EAST

44-20

A greatly improved Stonewall team, with sophomore Donnie Griffith starting at quarterback, romped over Huntington East 44-20, in the second game of the season. The Generals, before a home crowd, surprised everyone by jumping to a 24-0 lead at the half. The B team played most of the second half.

Season Record: 7 Wins, 2 Losses

LOGAN — 26-7

Rolling back after a heart-breaking loss to C. H. S., the Generals defeated Logan 26-7 in their season finale. The Gens scored their first two touchdowns in the first quarter, but missed the extra points. However, in the second period, the Wildcats came back to score a touchdown. The half-time score was 12-7. The Gens tallied twice in the second half to end the scoring. A late touchdown by Ike Hartman was called back because of his stepping out of bounds. A Logan drive with only seconds to go was stalled by the Generals.

"Flash" Harper, backfield ace, on one of his fast dashes.

SOUTH CHARLESTON—20-0

In their first game after the month suspension, the Stonewall Jackson Generals whitewashed the South Charleston Eagles 20-0. Boyce Jarrett dashed 45 yards off tackle for the first touchdown in the second quarter. The other two touchdowns were scored in the final quarter when Junior Arose returned a punt 23 yards and Ike Hartman plunged one yard. Dean Dugger kicked both extra points. It was a hard fought contest with the Generals being penalized 186 yards during the game.

Roger Stover, star lineman, brings down opposition's ball-carrier.

PARKERSBURG — 0-28

The Generals went down to a disappointing defeat at the hands of a good Parkersburg team. The Big Reds just had too many guns for the boys from Stonewall who never quite got started and penetrated into Parkersburg territory only twice. The Generals held their own through the first quarter but then the roof caved in and Parkersburg scored twice before the half ended. Stover played good defensive ball.

Sophomore quarterback, Donnie Griffith, eludes would-be tacklers.

Host of Stonewall boys close in on East Bank ball-carrier.

SETH — 38-6

Under a heavy downpour, sub-quarterback John Upton led the Generals to a 38-6 win over Seth. Seth started out with a bang by rolling off 27 yards. However, Seth was called off side, but nevertheless made a touchdown and Dugger broke through to block the extra point. Due to the excellent defensive play of Bob Parsons, Roger Stover, and Dean Dugger, Stonewall held Seth scoreless the rest of the game while they tallied 38 points.

FAIRMONT WEST — 12-7

The Generals had to wait until late in the fourth quarter before scoring the winning touchdown to beat a surprisingly tough Fairmont West team, 12-7. John "Flash" Harper scooted 45 yards behind perfect blocking with only minutes remaining to give the victory to Stonewall. Our first touchdown was scored in the first half on a pass from quarterback Donnie Griffith to end Ralph Jones. The Stonewall line, led by Stover and co-Captains Parsons and Dugger, held the Polar Bears to only 52 yards rushing.

Boyce Jarrett rushes prospective tackler.

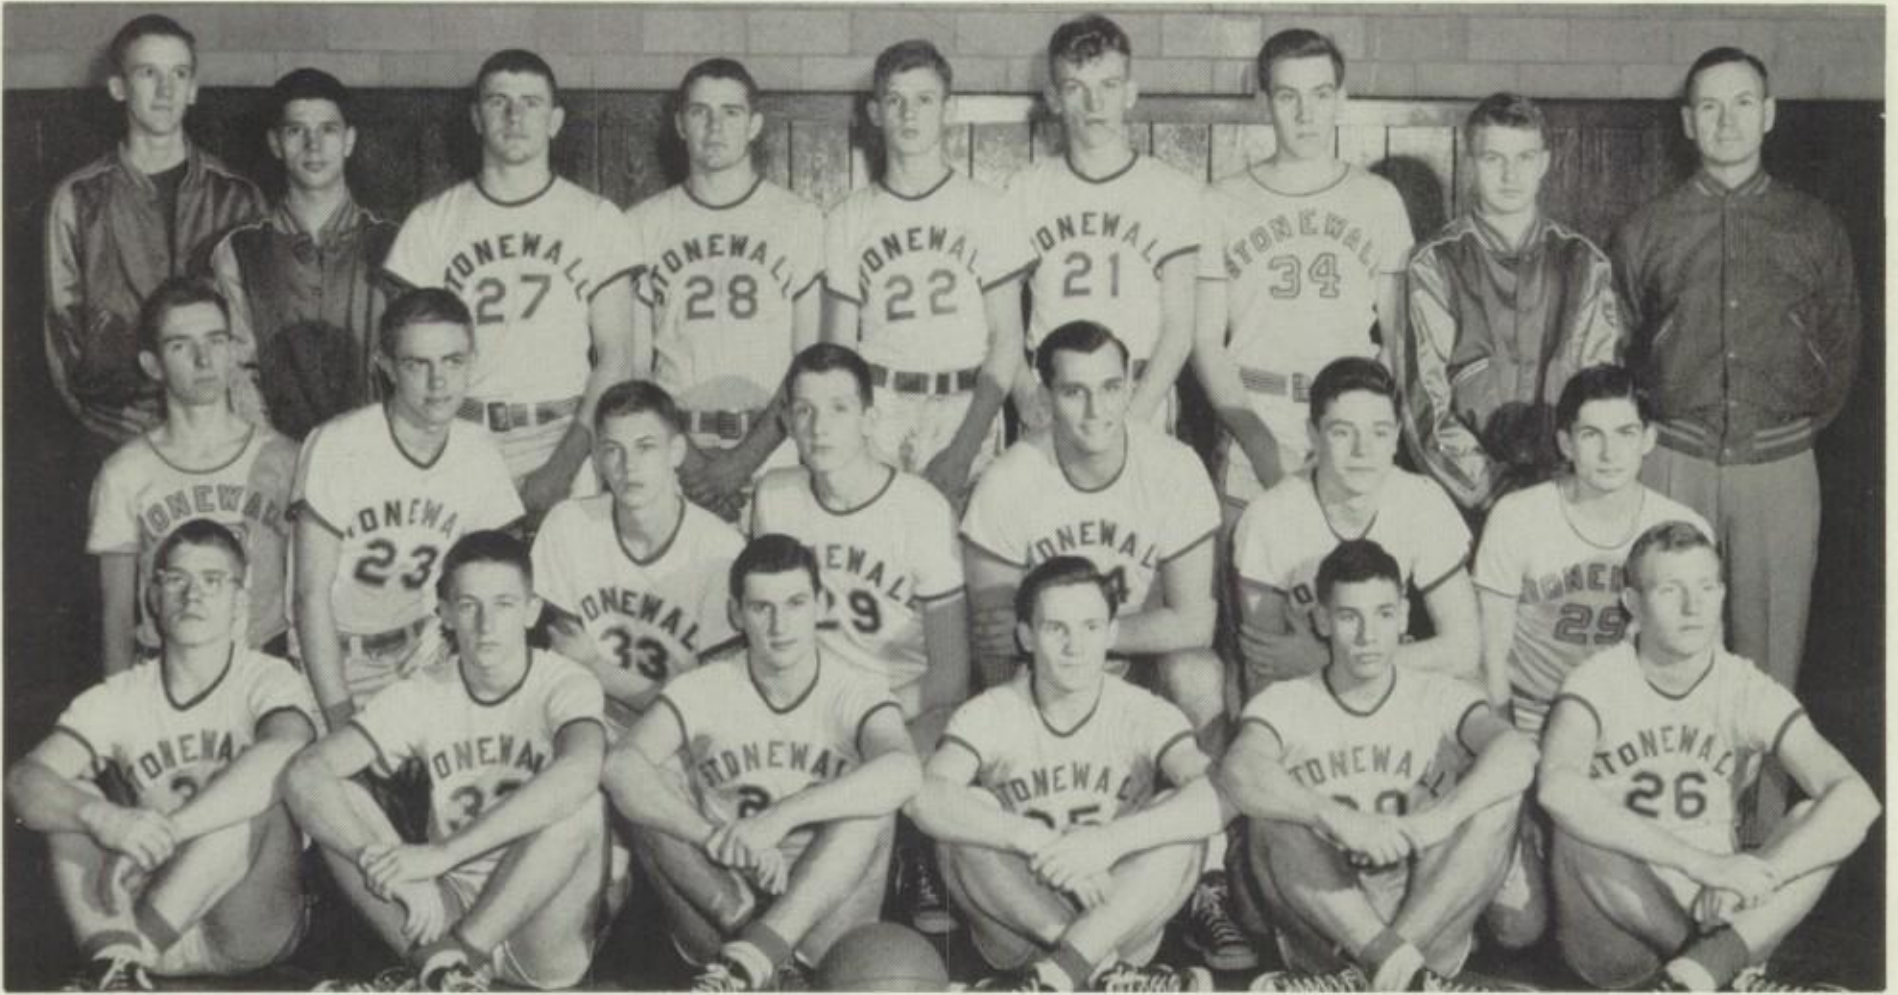

Boyce Jarrett, behind good blocking, racks up yardage.

CHARLESTON — 14-13

Despite the fine running of our backfield and the holding ability of the line, the Charleston High Mountain Lines overcame a 13-0 lead attained in the first quarter. Too many fumbles and no pass defense or offense cost the Generals dearly. Our first touchdown was made by Boyce Jarrett on the first play from scrimmage. The second touchdown was made by Donnie Griffith, our sophomore quarterback, on the famous "bootleg" play.

Basketball-1951

The Stonewall Jackson Generals ended their regular Kanawha Valley Conference season with a record of 10 wins and 5 losses, which earned them the fifth place berth in the Conference.

The Generals found competition tougher outside the Conference but managed to win 2 games while dropping 3. They won from Parkersburg, split a two-game series with Huntington Central and dropped two games to Huntington East.

The Generals opened their Kanawha Valley Conference season with an impressive victory over St. Albans by a score of 55 to 45 but dropped the next game to the potential Conference champs, Clendenin. The Generals bounced back to nose out the Dunbar Bulldogs by a score of 53 to 52, but then in turn lost to a strong Charleston aggregation. After this they defeated Elkview, lost to East Bank, beat South Charleston and then were surprisingly upset by DuPont 70 to 69.

The Generals then hit their stride to a six-game winning streak. In this streak their victims were Dunbar, Charleston, St. Albans, South Charleston, Catholic, and Clendenin.

Then Stonewall dropped two remaining games, to East Bank, 65 to 49, and to Dunbar 61 to 53.

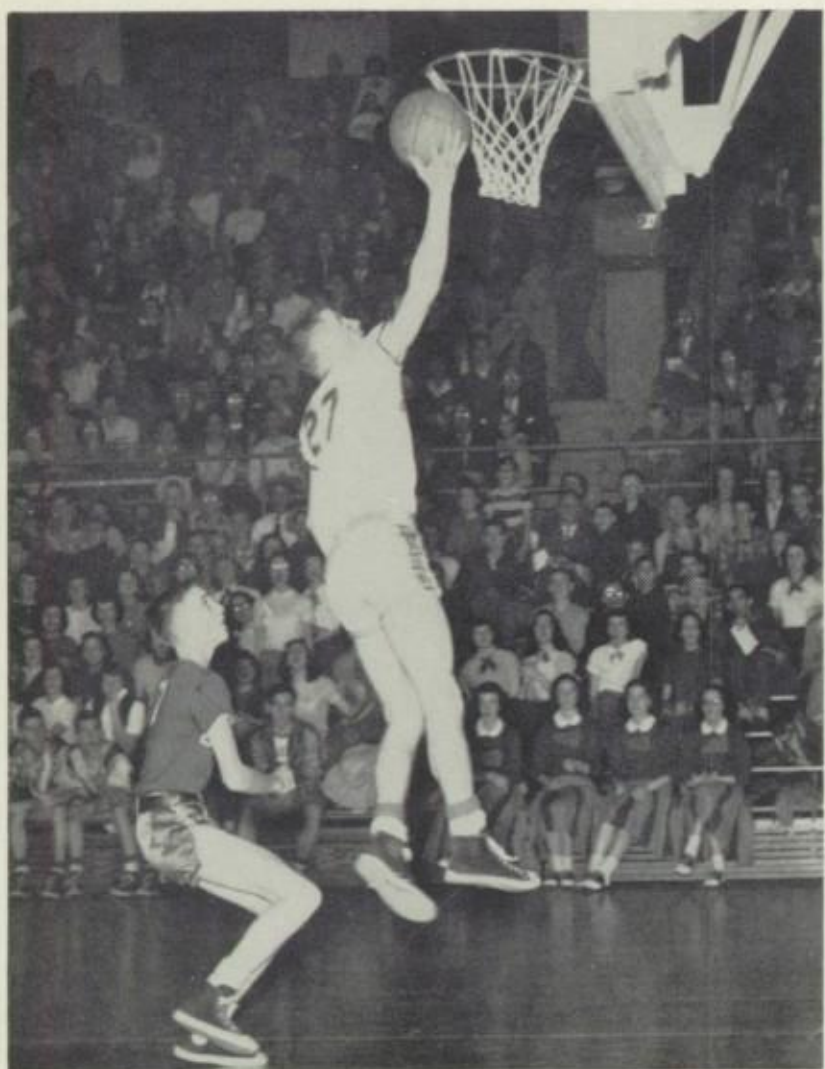

The starting five usually consisted of Jackie Jarrett and Jerry Bollinger as guards, "Lefty" Pritt and Bob Parsons as forwards, and Dean Dugger as center. Leading substitutes were Bob Yeager, Jack Lawhorn, and Ike Hartman.

Girls' Athletics

Girls' sports, led by the G. A. A., gives those of the supposed weaker sex a chance to demonstrate their athletic ability. The main goal of the department is total participation in its varied program of activities planned to keep the girls physically as well as mentally fit.

This organization is under the able leadership of Miss Drasnin and has sponsored many dances and parties in addition to leading the school in such activities as the bowling, softball, volleyball, ping-pong, and mixed couples' badminton tournaments.

Among the noon-time tournaments which are especially enjoyed by everyone are volleyball, conducted with stiff competition, and basketball, met with much enthusiasm among all the sports-minded students of the school.

Included in the well-rounded program of the G. A. A. are the exhibition games that are thoroughly enjoyed by the boys as well as the girls. The participants in these games are girls from Stonewall who are actively interested in athletics.

The Physical Education Department also takes an active part in furthering the sportsmanship and well being of all the students of the school.

Many of the students at Stonewall can be found at the Y. W. C. A. swimming pool. These girls seem to be enjoying themselves as well as gaining some healthful and perhaps much needed exercise.

These girls are representing Stonewall at the Huntington G. A. A. play day: A. Heizer, J. Sanders, B. Jarrett, E. Pruett, P. Jividen, N. Atkins, H. Rankin, B. Cummings, I. Bailey.

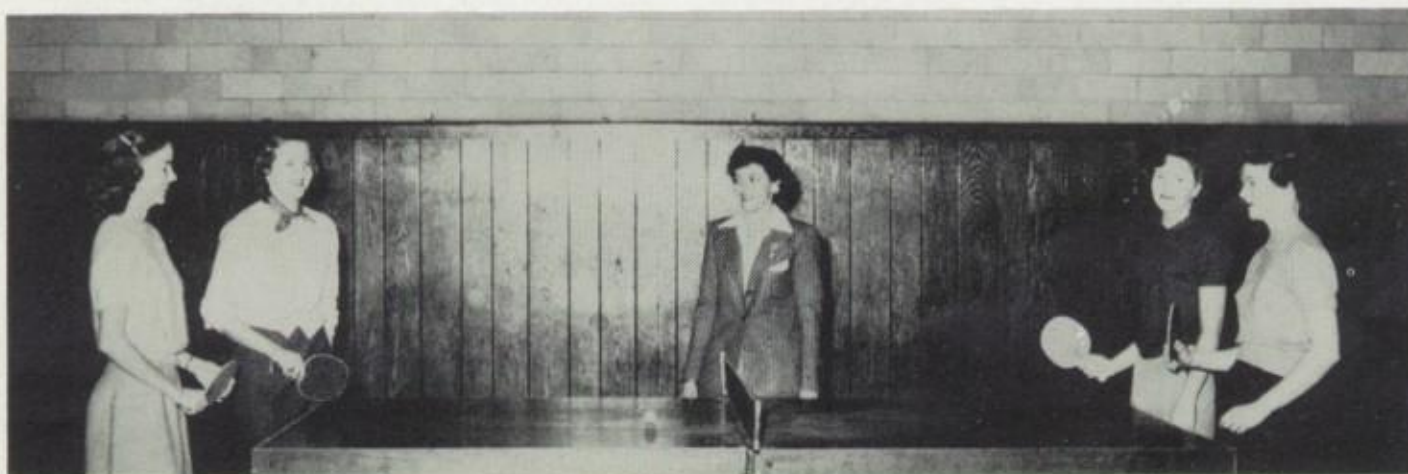

Edwin Huddle and Cary Caperton appear to be happy after becoming the mixed doubles badminton champions of the school.

Showing their capability in bowling are the following girls: N. Lemmon, P. Jividen, E. Pruett, F. Young, G. Painter.

These girls have been very valuable to Miss Drasnin in G. A. A. work: A. Heizer, E. Pruett, P. Jividen, and H. Rankin.

Enjoying their basketball under the able direction of Miss Drasnin are these girls from the physical education class.

These girls agree that softball, although a rugged sport, is a very popular activity with many girls at Stonewall.

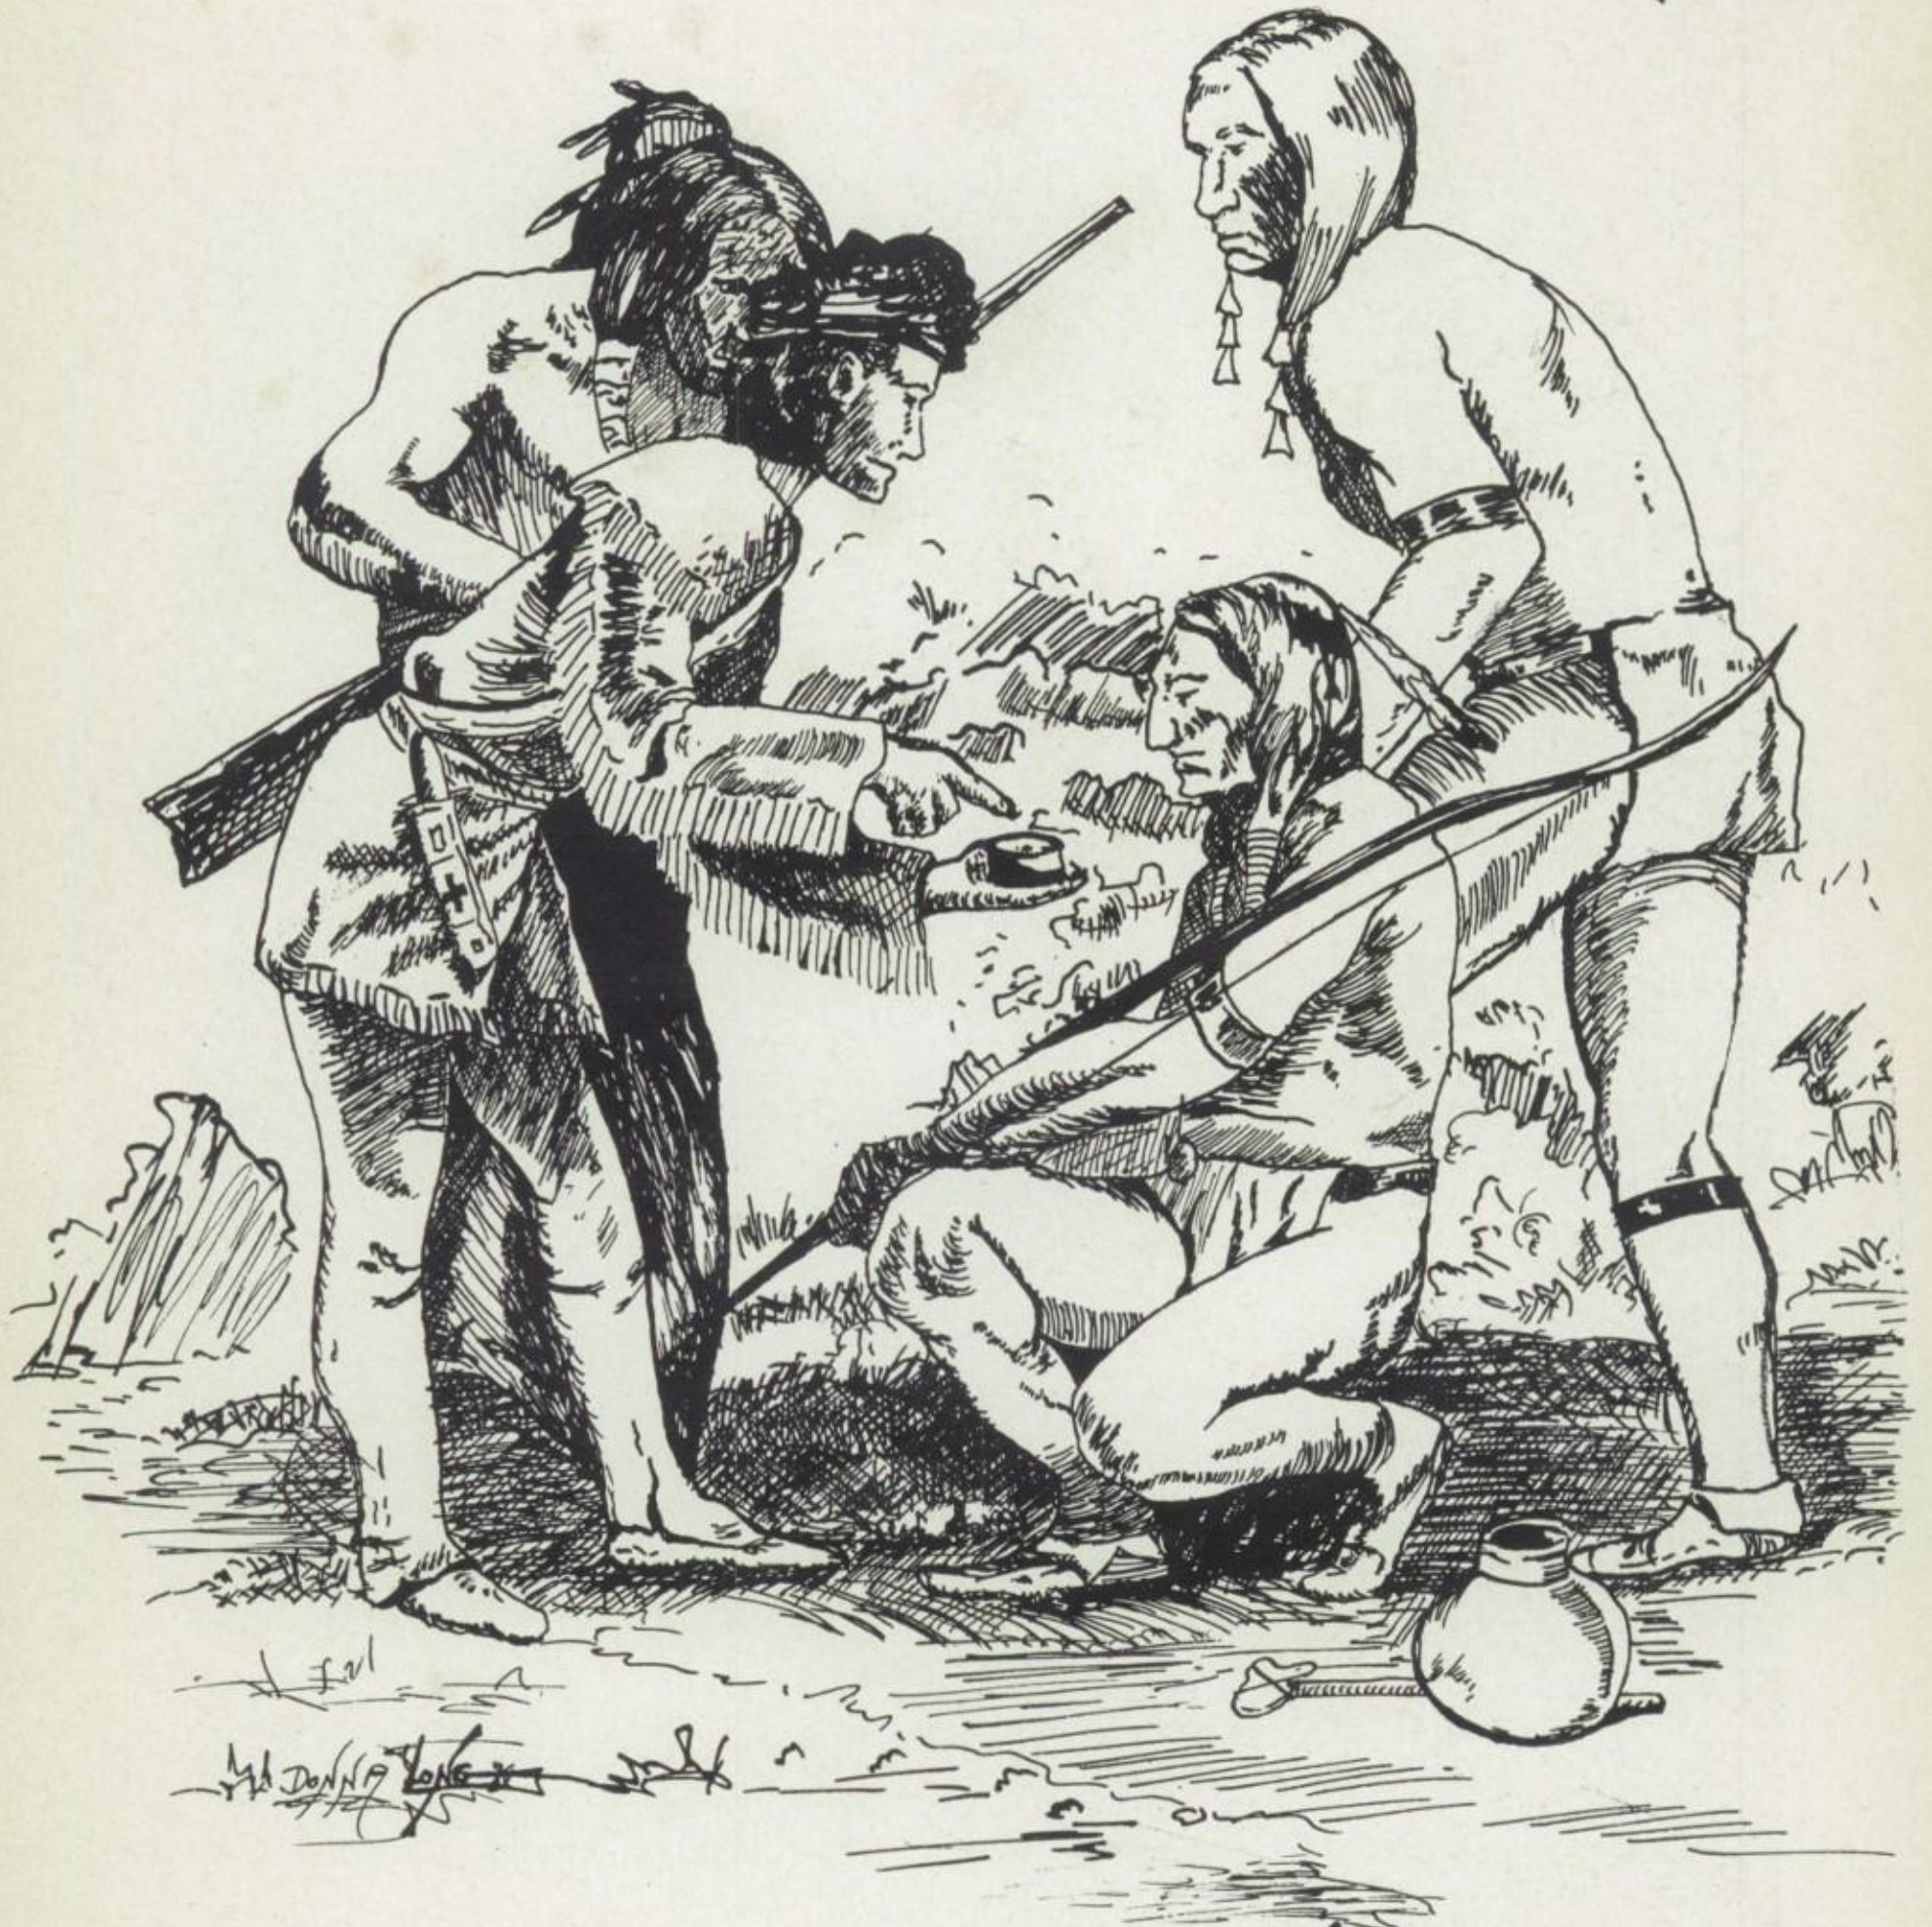

Volleyball, always one of the favorite sports played at Stonewall, seems to be enjoyed by all these Sophomore girls.

And The Truth Shall Keep You Free!

It is more than mere coincidence that the countries which have a free press also have free people. The facts on which the American people exercise the freedom of choice are made available to them through the newspapers which seek out and publish the truth without fear of reprisal. THIS IS THE TRUE ESSENCE OF DEMOCRACY.

S. J. Majorettes prove themselves superior in competition with other Majorettes.

Many lovely clothes featuring the new spring styles are modeled at the Fashion Show. Cooks and chefs prepare delicious tidbits under the direction of Miss Sarah Rose.

Smiling gaily for the camera are two lovely misses on their way to the style show. Talking it over are Charles Lieble and Meredith Kinnard as Dale Maddox looks on.

Acknowledgement

We wish to take this opportunity to express our appreciation to all who have made this yearbook possible. First, to Mathews Printing and Lithographing Company for their fine work, we give our sincere thanks. Also to Mr. W. W. Wallace, of DeLuxe Studio, for a job well done in photographing our seniors and organizations we say, "Thanks a Million." We are indebted to the West Virginia Industrial and Publicity Commission for an aerial view of Kanawha Valley by Bollinger and to Eastern Air Lines for a photo of the airport. We are grateful for permission to use quotations from "Moving Mountains to Build Kanawha Airport," and also for information found in West Virginia State Magazine. To our advertisers and sponsors who have contributed largely in financing our book, we wish to express our gratitude.

Last but not least, we wish to say that the splendid cooperation which we have received from all the students and faculty has made the success of this yearbook possible. In return for what each of you has done, we trust you will find this Jacksonian a storehouse of memories.
